Vice President for Information Technology & CIO

Hi.

The First 65 Days

Some Thoughts

- Amazing senior leadership and vision
 - Institutionally we are lean across the board

How Lean?

The screenshot shows the 'Stony Brook University Fast Facts' webpage. The page is divided into several sections: 'About Stony Brook University', 'General', 'Rankings', 'Faculty', 'Colleges & Schools', 'About Admissions, Financial Aid, & Student Body', 'Freshman Class 2013-2014', 'Academic Profile of Enrolled Freshmen', 'Annual Tuition & Fees', 'Financial Aid', and 'Student Body, Fall 2013'. The 'General' section lists founding information and affiliations. 'Rankings' highlights the university's position in various national and international lists. 'Faculty' notes high academic credentials and research output. 'Colleges & Schools' lists 12 different departments. The 'About Admissions...' section provides statistics on the 2013-2014 freshman class. 'Financial Aid' details the percentage of students receiving need-based and merit-based aid. 'Student Body, Fall 2013' provides enrollment numbers for both West and East Campuses.

Roughly 24,500 students and relatively small dedicated IT staffing levels

DoIT headcount at 175 ... trying to make sense of the rest to best represent IT at SBU

Some Thoughts

- Amazing senior leadership and vision
 - Institutionally we are lean across the board
 - There are approaches from the Project 50 Forward initiatives that we should look to implement in broader areas
 - <http://www.stonybrook.edu/sb/50forward/index.html>
 - We need to make a deeper effort to engage each other
 - We need to grow investments in key IT areas

Critical Areas of Focus and Emphasis

- IT Security and Policy
- Support for Research
- Teaching and Learning with Technology
- Communications, Collaborations and Governance
- Continued investment in network improvements

Rank in the bottom 50% of 250 faculty hires means the need for new forms of support.

Flipped designs, Open SUNY, growth of hybrid/online, and new curricular demands and decision making.

Enhancing wireless, new switching equipment, and increasing capacity.

The Organizational Chart

DoIT Organizational Departures
